

21st Century Cures

Southeast Conference

Who? Researchers interested in learning more about the 21st Century Cures Act, related programs at NIH, and related science being conducted in the Southeast.

What? 21st Century Cures: Southeast Conference, a conference with presentations from NIH program directors and other administrators as well as scientists from the Southeast

THE UNIVERSITY OF TENNESSEE
KNOXVILLE

OFFICE OF RESEARCH &
ENGAGEMENT

When? May 31, 2017 evening keynote and reception; full agenda on June 1, 2017 beginning at 8 a.m.

Where? The Howard H. Baker Jr. Center for Public Policy at the University of Tennessee, Knoxville

Why? To facilitate networking, learn about funding programs, and share scientific insights and perspectives in a multidisciplinary setting